

May 2, 1950.

Dr. T. M. Sonneborn,
Dept. Zoology,
Indiana University,
Bloomington, Indiana.

Dear Tracy:

I am afraid that I don't know of anyone here who might be available and suitable for the position that you mentioned in your recent letter. However, I have taken the liberty of showing your letter to Dr. James F. Crow, who holds a joint appointment in the Zoology Department, and who might be more likely to encounter the sort of student you would be interested in. He will communicate with you promptly if any suggestions should occur to him.

Sincerely,

Joshua Lederberg